Manual – structure (1)

From general towards more specific:

Manual – Structure (2)

Draft manual – input welcome (1)

The e-waste inspection and enforcement manual is now introduced as a draft / test version, to be used and evaluated during the National training seminars. Therefore the text of the manual shows:

Incomplete paragraphs, marked green

These paragraphs are already considered incomplete. They need adding of text or illustrations, editing and / or an extra quality check.

On top of that, other essential information may be missing in this draft.

You are kindly invited to list anything else you consider essential to be included in the final version.

Draft manual – input welcome (2)

The draft e-waste inspection and enforcement manual also shows:

Country specific paragraphs, marked blue

These paragraphs have not been filled in yet. They are to deal with (a.o.):

- Specific, national, legislation;
- Role, responsibility and contact details of different authorities, together forming the 'enforcement structure' in each country;
- E-waste country assessment – if available;

A full listing of 'wished for' information will be distributed.

You are kindly invited to contribute, if possible all information relevant for your professional background and your position.

Draft manual – work in progress !

Please consider the draft e-waste inspection and enforcement manual as 'work in progress'.

Please do not hesitate to ask for explanation or to give feedback on the manual to the IMPEL contact persons for your country.

Any contributions will be passed on to the 'manual writing team' who will complete the final version of the manual, in close cooperation with BCRC, BCCC and SBC.

THANK YOU !
